Subject: Microsoft leadership role

Hi Rodrigo,

Hope you are well. By way of introduction, I am an Executive Recruiter at Microsoft. Our team is well aware of you and your strong reputation. We are excited to learn more about you and your capabilities. We have one specific role that we think would interest you with leadership visibility. Additionally, I partner closely with our executives to identify leaders such as yourself for the purpose of making introductions that may lead to networking conversations ideal for sharing ideas and learnings in the industry.

If you are open to a brief introductory meeting next week or the following week, please let me know.

Thanks,
Laura
